Best alarm clock app for heavy sleepers android.

life changing!Hard sleeper? Hitting the snooze button a lot in the morning?Yeah..well, that's the problem. I used to be up by 5 AM every morning, ready to kick booty and take names. Then you get the 5:30 AM jolt, and by 5:30 AM you're already jolted. I mean sit straight up in bed, bug eyed, scrambling for glasses, screaming across the king size bed, "HOLY !@*# IS THAT AN EARTHQUAKE!?!?!" kind of jolt. That alarm went off and ya'll were all, "If I sleep, I'm lyin'." I mean, I'm lyin' near fell out.. If you suffer from anxiety, do not get this. Though, I'm certain no matter what state of decomposition one is in, it probably still wake the dead.As far as wiring issues, not working, etc... But it's EFFECTIVE. This alarm is no joke. Set that joker for the exact wakeup time. Your heart rate will go from 60 to 130 in seconds, from the first jolt, really.Now, this God-given, Satan inspired gift also has one more trick: it has LIGHTS, as if the brutal awareness that you are no longer asleep, but may now have an anxiety attack instead, isn't enough. We usually set the alarms 1-2 hours ahead so we can snooze and drift lightly back to consciousness in time for the day. Imagine a guy coming into your room each morning with a jack hammer, and that's about it.Then, you get the "squall".... We buy it. I feel like that's a good word. Remember the aforementioned 113 decibels? So, yes, it literally shakes your lazy tail outta bed. Nope, I'm a glutton for punishment.Yeah...we were testing-- I repeat, TESTING this alarm, broad daylight!Not sleeping!Heck, we were expecting the thing to go off in a minute!You're sleeping. I'm usually not one to do reviews but this certainly deserves a review!!We've had this about 5 months now. I'm thinking, you obviously don't know me, so... Wh@ hell, let's turn this around. If you can sleep with this, then you might want to go see a doctor to see if you're still in the land of the living. "I almost had a HEART ATTACK N! This thing contains a whopping 113 decibels. (same as a chainsaw, so imagine one that starts as your alarm clock!) My nodes probably bled hahaha... The vibration 's not shaken, but more about that later. All right, now to the real test: So Night #1: Side note: Both Mr. Smo and I have a love affair with our sleeping buttons, no problems so far. Well, not so much in these days. Like, it probably must have been my first clue to get away. "Of course I'm trying! I ain't fixin' it. A MORIR trying to get out of my sleep (if it really works, that's it!)First of all it comes to you literally looking like a bomb wire to a hockey puck. "Too much epileptic? Probably not for you. Youre . I often find myself waking up before the alarm even goes off because of what I think is almost fear. Try to go from sleeping well, to a chainsaw in your node without warning. We placed the jolter-majig 's under our mattress, in the middle, so that it was just for all the parts. it was a jolter-majig 's the middle. Let do it. I literally never hear from him. Night #1 we decide that 's will be reckless. Also, if I may add, little Smo wasn't ready either.Now, let's break this down. Surely you can see how 's can be a problem. As fate will have it, Mr. Smo and I pass through this surreptitious alarm clock marketed to those who sleep like a railroad tie rather than a normal human being duty. It comes in 5-7 days, yada yada yada. I'm not sure if it's because 's had a night rest since 2012 (thank you Alamy 's) or because my diet and exercise have become garbage... however, Russians attacking the U.S. in full light of the day 's me from a midday power nap if given the chance.Being business owner, WAHM, Wifey.. Really, I'm not even sure why they included a snooze button on this thing.If you have heart issues, do not get this. The only way I can describe these lights is, if you've ever seen flashing red lights on an ambulance, that's about what it's like. The only experience Mr. Smo says he can compare this alarm clock to is being jolted to consciousness each morning in basic training. The ad promised to wake the heaviest of sleepers. I wouldn't go as far as to say these red-flashing lights would cause a seizure, but it probably would be good to keep in mind if you have epilepsy. Like drill sergeants, the sheer volume of this alarm clock will make it impossible for one to ignore it. The bed-shaker (that actually goes underneath your pillow, I do NOT recommend that) shakes so violently, you can hear and feel it on the other side of the house. He wasn't ready. (is that a good word? Imagine someone putting a jack hammer to your bed and the loudest alarm you can imagine going off. off.
